Brooker, of the Evangelical Church, known as the "cowboy preacher," committed suicide at his home in this city to-day about 10 o'clock by shooting himself in the breast and head with a revolver. Mr. Brooker was about forty-five years of age and leaves a widow and six children Later details of the suicide disclose the fact that Mr. Brooker was charged with criminal relations with Harriet Longmate, who had been an intimate friend of the Brooker family during their residence at Grand Island. The sheriff from that city arrived in Kearney this morning with a warrant for his arrest on a charge that he was the father of an illegitimate child. Mr. Brooker denied his guilt. When the sheriff stepped out to get a guard for the prisoner Mr. Brooker killed himself. The woman in the case is unmarried and about thirty years of age.
